

Randall Wayth

Associate Professor Randall Wayth is head of the ICRAR Astronomical Instrumentation program at ICRAR/Curtin University and was formerly the Director of the Murchison Widefield Array (MWA) radio telescope. Wayth is a radio astronomer with an engineering background who bridges the gap between astrophysics and engineering in radio astronomy. Wayth has an interest in radio communication techniques and teaches radio communications engineering at Curtin University.